

LOW ON CALL FOR SEIZURE OF RUM SHIP "HIGH-HANDED"

MEXICAN ESCAPES AFTER CUTTING A FELLOW WORKMAN

Victim of Scrap East of Dixon is in Local Hospital.

Cecilio Gonzales, Mexican, employed at the Sandusky cement plant, was the victim of a stabbing affray early this morning and as a result of the affair he is in the Dixon hospital, suffering with a deep gash under the left arm and a bad puncture in the right side near the hip. The weapon used was a stiletto in the hands of a fellow Mexican, who made his getaway, and whose name was unobtainable.

Dr. E. S. Murphy was called and gave medical attention to the wounded man.

Sheriff Ritsley was called to the cement plant soon after the affair happened. The sheriff was informed that the stabbing had gone to Sterling, and he went to that city to make an effort to find his man. He had a good description of the fellow and hopes to have him before night.

Definite reasons for the stabbing affray are not known, but it was said that moonshine played a prominent part. The two apparently had been friendly. No one seems to know the motive behind the fight.

Later developments may bring out the salient angles of the scrap.

MOTHER'S LOVE CAUSES HER TO GIVE HERSELF UP

Confirms Confession of Slaying Made By Her Husband.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—A mother's love caused Mrs. Katherine Mahm, 19, to give herself up last night to police who have sought her since the alleged confession of her husband, Otto, that he shot and killed Edward Lehman, a watchman during an attempted burglary of a knitting goods factory.

When she fled to Indianapolis after the arrest of her husband Friday, she left her two-year-old daughter with her sister. Her only reason for returning, she said, was the hope that she would see her child again.

Questioned regarding her connection with the shooting in which she received a slight wound, she corroborated her husband's statements, and believed, she said, that the police would find free Walter Bockelman and Ethel Beck, indicted for the killing. Bockelman has been held since the Beck girl, according to the police, made a false confession.

She said she had killed Lehman and stated she was the woman accomplice.

Remains of Missing Girl Found in River

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28.—Miss Margaret Dearth, 22, who disappeared from the home of her parents, Judge C. W. and Mrs. Dearth, in Muncie, Ind., Nov. 1, and whose body was found in the Ohio river yesterday, committed suicide, it was learned today. Discovery of the body ended a search for the missing girl. The body had been in the water some time.

Dispatches from Muncie stated that Miss Dearth had been suffering from a mental strain at the time of her disappearance.

Big Fox Was Seen Near West Brooklyn

A large fox was seen by Frank J. Gehant, Jr., last Sunday while out hunting rabbits near West Brooklyn. About two hours after the trail was taken up with hounds owned by Oscar Atkins. After five hours of faithful work of the hounds the trail was lost. They finally crossed a trail of a large fox which was captured several hours later. The hunting party consisted of Oscar Atkins, L. S. Buchanan, Frank J. Gehant, Jr., LeRoy Chason and Anthony Gehant.

Stage Service from Dixon to Rockford is Stopped Until Spring

The Black Hawk Motor Stage lines of Rockford, of which Ronald R. Fay is president and manager, has announced that the Rockford-Dixon service, which was inaugurated this summer, has been discontinued for the winter and while the Black Hawk Trail stage bond issue route No. 2 is in process of construction. However, announcement is also made that the company will soon inaugurate a service between Rockford and Polo. This company is now giving bus service between Rockford, Stillman Valley, Byron, Leaf River, Mt. Morris and Oregon.

Find Dixon Merchant Has a Fractured Rib

The physician having charge of O. H. Martin, who was injured in an accident in Chicago when he was struck by a yellow taxi cab and thrown a considerable distance, discovered that Mr. Martin is suffering from a broken rib. He has other injuries and it was thought at first that his side was merely bruised, but yesterday the physician discovered that one of the ribs is broken.

Undisturbed Tomb of Time of Christ Found in Palestine

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—An undisturbed tomb dating from the time of Christ has been discovered in the Valley of Kedron near Jerusalem, according to word received from Dr. W. F. Albright, director of the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem. It was announced today.

"The tomb contained more than a score of ossuaries," he wrote. "A dozen of these bore the names and genealogies of the occupants. All the dead apparently belonged to one family which flourished about the time of Christ."

Dr. Albright also reported the finding of a sarcophagus, said to be the finest yet unearthed in Palestine.

ORGANIZATION OF CONGRESS IS STILL ISSUE OF CONFLICT

Fight Over Two Jobs of Sen. Cummins is Almost Certain.

Washington, Nov. 28.—President Coolidge turned his attention today to filling vacancies in federal offices which have occurred during the recess of congress. And which in about 200 cases were taken care of through recess appointments by President Harding. Mr. Coolidge has made less than half a dozen recess appointments in the four months he has been president.

Mayor Kiel of St. Louis, in the course of a lengthy conference with the President at which the Missouri political situation was discussed, renewed his recommendation for appointment of Y. W. Garasche to be additional judge for the eastern district of Missouri.

Concludes Message. The President put the finishing touches on his message to congress today and the document was sent to the printer. The message was comparatively brief.

The President has told visitors he framed the message with a view to presenting a record of his administration. His desire he said, is to impress congress with the soundness of the recommendations with sufficient force to render arguments unnecessary.

Organizing Problems. Despite continuing conferences of republican leaders and members of the progressive bloc, organization problems in congress apparently were no nearer solution today than for some weeks.

Expectations of the senate majority leaders that Senator Cummins of Iowa would give up one of his two places were upset by his decision to leave it to his colleagues whether he shall continue as president pro tem and chairman of the interstate commerce committee.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, and other republican leaders indicated their belief that Mr. Cummins would continue as president pro tem and that the selection of a candidate for that office would not even come before the republican conference Saturday.

Fight in Prospect. There has been a growing sentiment, however, both among organization republicans and the progressive bloc that the Iowa senator should not retain both places and it would not be surprising if a fight should be made to prevent him from doing so. The progressives had hoped he would retire from the chairmanship of the committee on which Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin is ranking member.

House progressives are working out details of their legislation and organization program. A committee, charged with this duty, expects to have its draft prepared for presentation to a meeting of the group Friday.

Schools Closed for Rest of This Week

The schools of Dixon will close this afternoon for the rest of the week, the pupils and teachers being given a two day vacation because of Thanksgiving. A number of the teachers had planned to leave the city for the vacation.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL OF RED CROSS NOW ON IN LEE COUNTY

Membership in Greatest Charitable Organization is Asked.

The Red Cross Annual Roll Call in Lee county will occur during the present week. An invitation is given to everyone to take a membership in this great humanitarian enterprise, which may well be called the Official Charitable Organization of the Government since it is in existence by virtue of Federal enactment. The wearing of the little Red Cross button indicates membership for the year 1924.

In each factory a committee has been appointed for the purpose of giving every employe an opportunity to join the Red Cross. To each business house has been sent a reasonable number of blank receipts with buttons, the aim being simply to allow everyone to have an opportunity to wear the Red Cross membership badge by contributing at least the minimum amount, viz., $1.00 per person. In addition, any one of the three banks are authorized to accept memberships and are prepared to provide members with receipts and the Red Cross button. William Hogan, ex-postmaster, is chairman of the Membership Committee, and his headquarters during the week will be at the postoffice in Mr. Moyer's office.

Year's Expenditures. In round numbers for the year ending June 30, 1923, the expenditures of the National Red Cross were as follows:

Home service (almost entirely for disabled ex-service men and women and their families).....$3,920,000.00
Public health nursing and other health activities.....910,000.00
Instruction classes.....370,000.00
Disaster relief.....130,000.00
Junior Red Cross work in local communities.....410,000.00
Material purchased for relief articles.....110,000.00
All other activities.....650,000.00

Total.....$5,500,000.00
Since 1918 the American Red Cross has administered more than $20,000,000.00 in disaster. After the Japanese earthquake $10,000,000.00 was contributed for relief through the Red Cross. From July 1, '17 to January 30, '23, the American Red Cross spent $2,300,000.00 through its chapters nationally and through its chapters more than $163,000,000.00 in service to the men who wore the American uniform in the World War. The Red Cross provides a reserve nursing force of 40,000 trained nurses ready for any emergency. This is the work in which all may participate. Can one think of any better way of spending a dollar?

Roads Say Reduced Grain Rates Will Be of Little Real Help

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Minneapolis, Nov. 28.—Reductions in grain rates will not materially aid farmers according to arguments presented yesterday by western railway before representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission who are conducting rate hearings here.

The economic condition of the agricultural section of the nation is better now than at any time in two years declared L. E. Wetling, statistician for the western railways.

Little Done Tuesday at International Rum Conference at Ottawa

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Canadian and United States officials attending the International Conference on liquor smuggling expected today to get down to facts in their discussion of methods proposed by the American government to end transportation of rum across the border.

Strict secrecy was maintained. It was believed little was done yesterday other than for the Canadians to receive the United States proposals.

Oklahoma Senate is Favor of Unmasking Members of the Klan

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Having taken definite steps to unmask the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, the state senate prepared to consider again today the bitterly contested question of membership in secret organizations. Action is expected on a motion presented to eliminate from a proposed anti-Ku Klux Klan bill a section compelling officers of all secret organizations in the state to file their names with the constituted authorities.

MISSIONARY TO OCCUPY PULPIT AT PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Smith, Ningpo, China, to Tell of His Work.

Reverend Prentiss Hovey Case, pastor of the First Presbyterian church who delivers the Memorial address for the Licks lodge of Galesburg has secured Rev. Elmer Smith, D.D., of Ningpo, China, to supply the pulpit here on that date.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith are at the head of the Ningpo station of the Central China Mission. Ningpo Station is located on the Ningpo river 100 miles south of Shanghai and 12 miles from the sea. The station was opened in 1844 and consists of the Station church, 24 other churches and groups, 28 Sunday schools, North Bank Kindergarten, Academy (boys), Girls School, 28 other schools, McCarty hospital for men and women, Dixon Memorial hospital for women, Compuan orphanage, and Widows' home.

Connected with the mission there are 25 outstations, 11 American missionaries and 92 native religious workers. There are 25 churches of which 2 have reached self-support. These churches have a membership of 1,978 communicants and 514 catechumens. The Sunday schools of the mission have a membership of 2,414. There are also 37 schools serving an enrollment of 1,154.

The visit of Dr. Smith to the Dixon church will afford a rare opportunity for those interested in missions to gain some first hand information. At the morning session Dr. Smith will speak on "The Challenge of Foreign Missions" and at the vespers service his subject will be "China."

As the benevolence budget of the Presbyterian church has been subscribed there will be no special offering taken.

Three Hunters Met Death By Drowning

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Bath, Ind., Nov. 28.—One hundred men are today dragging the Illinois River in an effort to find the bodies of Earl Housh and John M. Butler of Bath, and J. P. Croak, plumbing contractor of Hammond, Ind., who were drowned yesterday in the Illinois River near here when their launch, in which they were duck hunting, sank. A diver from Peoria is expected to arrive here today.

Leo Knoeser, automobile dealer of Hammond, Ind., narrowly escaped drowning by swimming to shore. He was able to give an account of the accident.

"Returning from our hunt," he said "we were a mile from Bath. When a leak in the stern of the launch occurred all rushed for the bow. The launch sank immediately, throwing us all in the water. Roush, Butler and Croak's boots filled with water and they went down. My boots, laced tight, permitted me to swim ashore."

Raw Materials Lead All American Exports

Washington, Nov. 28.—Raw materials intended for manufacture made up the largest proportion of American exports during October while finished products were the next heaviest item on the list. In imports, raw materials also constituted the largest classification, with finished goods second.

SEVERAL NEW MEN TO PLAY WITH LEGION

Dixon Aggregation to Clinton Tomorrow, Seeks Revenge.

Manager Sherwood Dixon of the American Legion Football team will take his boys to Clinton, Ia., Thanksgiving day and will make a big effort to trim the boys in the Iowa city—"I simply want to get revenge," declared Dixon, "for the way they trimmed us some weeks ago, the score then being 6 to 0." The locals will be crippled because the Dixons will be on the team.

Revolution in U. S. Long Ways Off Says Leader of Russ Reds

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Moscow, Nov. 28.—An official Bolshevik opinion on the impossibility of immediate revolutionary changes in the United States was expressed yesterday before the congress of scientists by Nickoll Bucharin, head of the left wing of the central soviet committee. He said it was evident American capital was consolidated and was growing stronger and that no changes could possibly threaten it for a long time; neither could any prediction of revolution there be made at this time.

CUSTOMS OFFICES, DOCKS AT DETROIT DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss in Blaze Today Estimated at Over Million and Half.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Detroit, Mich., Nov. 28.—Fire starting from an overheated stove in a watchman's shanty early today destroyed the Detroit & Windsor Ferry Company dock, housing United States immigration and customs offices, spread to the six story Munger Building, which was then destroyed, and then burned a four story warehouse and several small buildings.

The loss was estimated at $1,500,000.

Three persons were injured, one probably seriously.

Frank Kelly, a fireman, was knocked from a ladder when a hose slipped. He fell 30 feet. Robert Yates, watchman, was burned about the face and hands when he attempted to check the fire. Carl Kreslin, another watchman, was overcome by smoke.

The warehouse of the Finsterwald Furniture Co., also was consumed. The fire swept section, at the foot of Woodward avenue, was one of the oldest in the city and some of the buildings burned had been standing 50 years.

Two minutes after the first alarm fire had eaten into the Finsterwald building and great flames were shooting skyward. Before the fire company arrived, the flames had spread to the Munger building across an alley.

Flames Spread Rapidly. Although three-fourths of the city's fire fighting equipment reached the scene 20 minutes after the first alarm, pouring fifty streams of water into the flames, the fire continued to press northward.

Three floors of the Munger Building were occupied by the Finsterwald Co. and the vanished furniture fed the flames faster than the firemen could conquer them. On another floor was the factory of the Easton City Company, which manufactures of company, varnish and dye makers, and small explosions there hampered the firemen.

The General Sales Company automobile store rooms were next in the path of the flames which then spread to the Finsterwald Company's four story warehouse, the offices of the Lake Carriers Association and the Bois Blanc Company. The Schulte cigar store was also destroyed.

Harvey F. Palmer, 71, 1706 Thirtieth street, Rock Island, died at St. Anthony's hospital Monday night of blood poisoning. Funeral services were held in Centenary Methodist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with the Rev. F. D. Menze in charge. Burial was in Graceland cemetery.

Mr. Palmer was born in Kellyburg, Pa., Dec. 26, 1852. While he was a child his parents settled in southeast Iowa. He married Mrs. Elizabeth Randolph April 14, 1884, at Centralia, Ill. They lived in Wilton, Ia., until 1893, and moved to Rock Island soon afterwards. He is survived by the widow and two sons, Elbert L. of Dixon, and Harry C. of Cedar Rapids. There is one stepson, Roy Randolph, of Davenport. Another son was killed in action during the World War.

Smiles of Pretty Widow of No Avail Against This Jury

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 28.—Smiles of pretty Elizabeth Vaughn, 23-year-old widow of this city, failed to make any impression on a Knox county jury composed entirely of men, who confessed they had to have lain for ten days handcuffed and bound, according to a dispatch to the Examiner.

James Kennard, a prisoner in the jail at San Andreas, confessed that he panicked and fled Oleson ten days ago and left him in an old tunnel, the location of which he has forgotten, because Oleson owed him money, the dispatch says.

Bound Debtor, Then Hid Him in Unknown Tunnel 10 Days Ago

By Associated Press Leased Wire. San Francisco, Nov. 28.—Authorities near Jackson today are searching for an old mining tunnel in which Philip Oleson, known as "Boss Red," is believed to have lain for ten days handcuffed and bound, according to a dispatch to the Examiner.

James Kennard, a prisoner in the jail at San Andreas, confessed that he panicked and fled Oleson ten days ago and left him in an old tunnel, the location of which he has forgotten, because Oleson owed him money, the dispatch says.

STATE DEPARTMENT GETTING ALL DATA FORSEEING PROTEST

British Charge Indicated His Government "Is Interested."

Washington, Nov. 28.—Machinery of the government was put in motion today to collect all facts in connection with the seizure beyond the three-mile limit of the rum runner Tomako and to definitely ascertain whether the ship was properly using the British flag when she was taken by a coast guard cutter. Information is also being sought to establish her ownership.

While these steps were being taken at the request of the State Department without waiting for a formal request for information from the British embassy, it is understood Henry C. Hilton, charge, has made it known informally that this government is interested in the case.

In the final determination of the case, the findings will be compared to those developed when the schooner Henry L. Marshall was seized and the British government would serve as the yardstick to measure the government's rights in the seizure of the Tomako.

In the Marshall case the British government at first signified its intention to file a formal protest but when it was given all of the circumstances, including the fact that the Marshall failed to establish the validity of its British registry, the case was dropped.

Called "High-Handed." By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Nov. 28.—Seizure of the British schooner Tomako off New Jersey is attracting considerable notice in the London press. The Morning Press thinks the incident was unfortunate and that the delay in connection with the British-American treaty making the "Tomako" sailing has been marked by "the illegal seizure of British vessels engaged in what may not be an honorable but certainly not an illegal occupation."

This thinking the "Tomako" sailing with the seizure of the British schooner Island Home off Texas, it continues.

"The action of the American revolution was most high-handed and unjustified and has only too much in common with the fanaticism and fury which have accompanied the prohibition movement in the United States."

The Daily Mail while disavowing the slightest sympathy with prohibition, thinks "the activity of bootleggers using British bases for huge smuggling operations ought to be checked."

RETURN SHIP TO OWNER

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 28.—Federal Judge R. M. Call in an opinion today upheld the contention of members of the crew of the British auxiliary schooner Louise F. that the vessel was brought within the three-mile limit against the wishes of the officers. The opinion says he will

Wedding Celebrated at Davis, Ill.

Harley M. Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, of Rock Grove, Ill., and Vera M. Meinert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Meinert, of Davis, Ill., were united in marriage in the Evangelical parsonage, Davis, Ill., on Thursday evening, Nov. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. L. M. Phillips performing the ceremony. They were attended by the groom's brother, Merle C. Zimmerman, and the bride's sister, Flora Meinert. Both the bride and bridesmaid were attired in beautiful dark blue gowns, the former of satin crepe and the latter of messaline silk. Both the young ladies wore corsages bouquets of roses. Both Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman came from highly respected families. They are young people of sterling qualities and the writer wishes them a long and happy pilgrimage through life.

Both young people have often visited in Dixon and have many friends here who wish them every happiness.

STORY AND GROWTH OF CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

Sixteen years ago through the influence of an article by Jacob Rits in the Outlook Magazine telling of Christmas stamps sold in Denmark for the support of a children's hospital, Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Delaware, sold seals for the first time in this country and raised $1,000 to pay on the site of the first tuberculosis sanatorium in Delaware (Hope Farm). The penny stickers that could be bought by rich and poor, children and grown-ups, became popular at once. From the first it was realized that the organized movement to combat tuberculosis could have widespread educational value. From 1908 until 1919 the Christmas seal sale was sponsored by the American Red Cross. The 1919 seal was the first to carry the double-barred cross, the specific symbol of the fight against tuberculosis and the official emblem of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1,200 state and local agencies three hundred thousand seals were sold in 1907. Over 384 million seals were sold in 1922. Approximately 2 billion have been sold and 8 billion distributed since the first Christmas seal sale. Over 1 billion seals are in circulation this year.

Turkey Isn't the Only Course on Thanksgiving Day

BY SISTER MART.
If you are not serving cranberry sauce or jelly with your meat for Thanksgiving dinner why not have a cranberry pudding or pie?
Or perhaps you would "paint the lily," as it were, and serve pumpkin pie with whipped cream.
Or Indian pudding is a typical New England dish for Thanksgiving dinner.

If you have kept your dinner without frills why not late in the afternoon, when everyone is feeling more or less thirsty from much conversation and a heavy noonday meal, serve a delicious 1923 cooler of some sort in the form of an ice or a frappe? You may prefer to serve this with the dinner in place of a heavy pudding.

A delicious drink to serve with the dinner is made of equal parts of cider and grape juice.

Cranberry Pudding.
One cup cranberries, 1/2 cup butter and lard mixed, 1 cup sugar, two eggs, 3 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt.
Cream shortening and slowly add sugar. Add eggs well beaten. Mix and add dry ingredients and add alternately with milk. Add cranberries. Mix well and turn into a buttered mold. Steam three hours and serve with the following sauce:

Pudding Sauce.
Two eggs (yolks), 1 cup powdered sugar, 1 cup whipped cream, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract.
Beat yolks of eggs with sugar until very light. Add whipped cream and flavoring and whip thoroughly.

Cranberry Pie.
One cup cranberries, 1/2 cup raisins, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, two tablespoons cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon salt, pastry.

Chop raisins and cranberries together. Mix sugar, spices, salt and cornstarch. Add fruit and mix with water. Cook, stirring constantly over the fire until mixture thickens. Turn into a pie dish lined with pastry. Cover with a top crust and bake in a hot oven.

A very attractive pie is made by cutting the pastry in strips and arranging them

DAY OF THANKS.

Thanksgiving Day originated as a time of thanks for plentiful harvests which made it certain that the early settlers of America
would be able to endure the winter without starving.

Thanksgiving has gradually come to mean much more. It is the time of thanks for all such blessings as good crops, prosperity, health, peace, children, happy homes. In short, it is the one time of the year when the whole nation, regardless of creed or sect,
unites in recognition of the spiritual—of our dependence on Almighty God.

Those early New England pioneers endured severe hardships. They lived close to starvation, in fearful cold, amid hostile Indians.
They had little to be thankful for, yet they devoutly gave thanks. Surely we should be made thoughtful and appreciative humble as we ponder how much more we have to be thankful for than the Pilgrims.

STRANGE HOBBY.

The world's greatest collection of fleas is presented to the British Museum, whose officials register exquisite delight.

These fleas were collected by the late Nathaniel Rothschild, head of the famous London banking family.

Rothschild took great pride in his fleas. He ransacked the world for them. Expense was no object. He even sent a costly expedition into the Far North to get a specimen of the flea that annoys a certain kind of Arctic seal.

Strange things happen in World Vaudeville, but rarely anything stranger than this hobby of the rich banker.

Up speaks Arthur F. Samme, Englishman, calling attention to his own peculiar collection—match boxes. He has 476 different specimens, and he boasts that it took 14 years
to acquire them.

Samme claims, with dignity and confidence, that he is the world's greatest authority on match boxes. No doubt.

In two ways, it's a striking hobby.

Man's instinct for accumulation is, in its simpler form, the quality or virtue known as thrift. Carried to extremes, to its logical conclusion, it is responsible for some people being too rich at the expense of others who remain too poor.

Many a millionaire will smile at Mr. Samme collecting match boxes or Mr. Rothschild collecting rar fleas. But the match boxes and fleas have benefited their owners about as much as excessive possession of dollars benefits the extremely rich.

A queer animal, at times, is man.

In justice to Rothschild, it must be admitted that his hobby did the world a little good,
since eas spread diseases and a knowledge of them is obviously valuable. Which is more than can be said of some collections of dollars.

BIRDS.

The eyesight of birds is over 100 times as powerful as human sight. And birds are blind compared with salmon.

Birds also have phenomenal hearing.
Pheasants in England during the war became alarmed by vibrations from explosions 300 miles away.

In the primitive state, man probably had
his five senses many times keener than today.
Physically we become dulled as spiritually
we grow more sensitive.

Trade of the United States with the British colonies, protectorates and dependencies,
which have recently been in conference in London, has more than doubled since the beginning of the war. Indeed this is the situation discussion of which occupied much of the time of the recent conference of premiers,
with the view of giving preference to inter-
change of trade between Britain and its colonies.

SIGNLESS HIGHWAYS.

Governor Small has recently called upon
his fellow-citizens to complete the task already begun in this state, of removing all commercial signs from the right of way of state highways. Illinois is proud of the fact that there are in the state hundreds of miles of drives unmarred by unsightly sign-boards. It is urged that this pleasing result can be made general if every village, town
and city in the commonwealth will look after its own territory.

One official, pointing out the advantages of the signless highway policy, says: "It is difficult to catch the meaning of a danger
sign at a railroad crossing, side road or cross road when official signs are confused with commercial posters. In addition to the danger and inconvenience caused by promiscuous right of way advertising, it detracts from the natural beauty of the drives and deprives tourists of some of the pleasures of travel."

This attitude toward billboard advertising
along roads seems to be gaining force right along. Several states, among them Connecticut and Minnesota, have enacted laws calling for signless highways—that is, free from commercial signs. Others have made progress in this matter in varying degrees, while some still need to wake up in regard to the subject.

For the benefit of advertisers who believe in the highway sign, it should be noted that two busy streets in New York City have recently eliminated all their street signs, including the electric signs displayed so brilliantly at night. The merchants who brought about this reform did so from purely business motives. Their sign competition had reached a point of saturation so far as public interest was concerned. The absence of disfiguring signs has proved a magnet for customers.

A publisher tells us that 200,000 different
new books come from the world's presses
each year. He figures that nearly nine million books were published in the last century.

Out of the 200,000, how many are really worth reading? One hundred might be a low estimate, but certainly not more than that many will survive by the year 2000, other than as relics.

Writing, except as a carrier of thought,
perishes quickly.

CHINESE.

Eggs—five million dollars worth—arrive in New York harbor in a single shipment from China. Some are frozen, the rest dried. Being shipped in bulk—out of the shell—they'll reach consumers only in the form of prepared foods.

For our peace of mind, it's just as well that we don't know the history of the majority of things we eat in civilization.

HOW TO BE THANKFUL.

(By Tom Sims.)

Be thankful you don't smoke. It's a bad habit. Be thankful you do smoke. It's lots of fun.

Be thankful you don't drink. Makes you drunk. Be thankful you do drink. Keeps you from being sober.

Be thankful you have hair on your head.
Looks nice. Be thankful you are bald. Saves combing.

Be thankful you went to college. Great as-
set. Be thankful you didn't go to college.
Great asset.

Be thankful you don't eat onions. Onions smell. Be thankful you do eat onions. Onions taste fine.

Be thankful all girls are not blondes.
Blondes are dizzy. Be thankful some are blondes. Blondes are dizzy.

Be thankful you have a home. Very enjoyable. Be thankful you have no home. Taxes are too high.

Be thankful you are married. Real happiness. Be thankful you are not married.
Real happiness.

Be thankful you can sing. Singers are welcome. Be thankful you can't sing. Singers are pests.

Be thankful you have an auto. Great convenience. Be thankful you have no auto.
Great nuisance.

Be thankful you are rich. Saves worry.
Be thankful you are poor. Can't lose your fortune.

Be thankful you are thankful. Make you thankful. Be thankful you are not thankful.
Be thankful.

"Can you guess what it is?" asked the Riddle Lady.

This was the next riddle that the Riddle Lady asked the people in Riddle Town:

"Ride a cock-horse to Banbury Cross,
I could sing of something that beats any horse,
Eyes that glare brightly, a horn on
her nose,
Panting and wheezing wherever she goes."

"Never wants fodder and never eats
hay,
Yet drinks like an elephant's baby,
they say,
Never needs shoeing—wears rubbers
instead,
'Fraid as she can be of cold in the head."

"Hasn't a hand, but she has a firm
clutch,
So the absence of hands doesn't bother her much.
Neither owns she a foot yet she has a long step,
And she speeds o'er the ground with much spirit and pep."

"This lady's not vain, yet she wears a large hood,
And she carries a fan as all real ladies
should,
When she's wet she wears chains,
though they're not made of gold,
And put them on top of her rubbers,
I'm told."

"Guides along highways as though she
had wings,
Sometimes she hauls peasants, sometimes she rides kings.
I could sing of her praises all day
without end,
Her name is Miss Swift
friend."

"That's all there is to it. Can you guess what it is?" asked the Riddle Lady.

"Horns on her nose! She must be a cow," said one.

"Hump!" said another. "A cow's horns are not on her nose. They're on her head. It must be a rhinoceros, if it has a horn on its nose! Is it Miss Riddle Lady, is it a rhinoceros?"

"No, no!" answered the Riddle Lady. "How could a rhinoceros go so fast? Besides, I said that people rode on her and nobody ever, ever, ever could ride on a cross old rhinoceros."

"Well, I'm blest if I know!" said one Riddle Lander after another. "We're all blest if we know. That's the hardest riddle you've asked us yet. Rubber! Hump! Fans! Hump! No, we can't guess."

"Give up?" asked the Riddle Lady.
"Give up!" said the Riddle Landers
gloomily.

"Give up?" said Nancy and Nick.
"Why, it's an automobile," said the Riddle Lady.

Nobody got a prize that day.

BY BERTON BRALEY

There isn't any question
That overeating brings
A lot of indignation
And other kindred things;
But though our rules of living
Are strict and sane enough,
We sit down on Thanksgiving
And we stuff.

In brisk November weather
With diet rules ignored
The household gets together
About the groaning board.
And though the sky be murky
We care not for its gloom,
We have a portly turkey
To consume.

We're thankful for each blessing
That we have come across—
"Please help me to that dressing
And more cranberry sauce!"
For all our joys we're grateful
Thanksgiving is the word
("I'll take another plateful
Of that bird.")

Our duty lies before us
Friends, husbands, children, wives,
Come join in on the chorus
Of forks and spoons and knives.
Let happiness and mirth be
About the planet spread
And everyone on earth be Overfed!

ETHIOPIA

Last Output of Slavery

"Abyssinia, whose formal application
for admission to the League of Nations has not been acted upon by that body because of the prevalence of slavery in the country, is the only free and independent state in the whole of Africa except Egypt and Liberia," according to a bulletin of the National Geographic Society issued today from its Washington, D.
C., headquarters.

"It seems paradoxical, too, that one of the three free states in Africa,
lying in the protruding portion of the eastern part of the continent, should also be the last home of open slavery."

Mrs. Slaves Than Freeman
One traveler through the country
said that he believed there were more slaves in its capital, Addis Ababa, than there were freemen. Servants of Europeans living in the country have their own slaves, and sometimes it is impossible for Americans or other foreigners to keep from owning slaves,
because if a slave happens to be given to a resident of the country, there is no known method by which he may be emancipated. If he is set free he is subject to capture and enslavement
by someone else.

"In fact, so many of the people of the outlying districts have been captured and chained together and taken in droves into the great slave market at Jimma, that it is possible to march
for mile after mile, day after day,
through a once flourishing agricultural district without seeing a man, woman or child. Recently it has been reported that the traders are beginning, for lack of people in their own country, to make raids into the neighboring Kenya colony, the British Sudan, and elsewhere for their quarters."

Still Swear "By Menelik"
"Few countries show such a mark-change during a short period of ten years as Abyssinia has since the death of its 'grand old man,' Menelik,
who was so progressive in his ideas
that Italy gave his country the an-

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

cient empire of Ethiopia—its independence. To swear "by Menelik" is today the most binding oath a native
can take.

"In his time a child might drive a cow from the confines of the city to a remote corner of the kingdom without being molested, but today that same child, grown to manhood,
might be snatched up before he had proceeded very far on his journey
and sold into slavery in some distant city."

"The old king, during his reign of a quarter of a century, built up his capital city, laid out metalled roads,
and railroad lines, installed telephones
and promoted banking, schools, sanitation, a water supply, hospitals, and
a definite system of law and order.
Today his railroad is under French management and depends upon the French for its financial backing, the streets are neglected, and even the foreign legations have to be harcaded to keep out the brigands."

Nominally Christian
"Abyssinia also enjoys a peculiar distinction among the native states
of the continent—since the fourteenth century, it has been known as a Christian nation. Menelik's vain and arrogant successor bound a gorgeous Moslem turban around his woolly
head, however, and turned the faces of his people toward Mecca, in order that he might satisfy his desire for a harem. But when he was deposed in 1916 and a daughter of Menelik,
Waizera Zauditu, and Ras Tafari
were proclaimed rulers the historic faith was restored."

The tactful individual who wishes to get himself into the good graces of the natives always remembers that he must speak of them as Ethiopians,
for the term Abyssinian means "mon-
gre" and probably came into usage
originally because it is hardly possible to find on the earth so mixed
a population, ranging from certain light-skinned individuals of Mediterranean stock, through mulatto, and dusky-skinned Arab, to "high yellow,"
"gingerbread," and the true blacks, peas as the "Red Face." Many of them are particularly fond of raw meat, and the warmer and fresher the kill the better they like it."

GIVE THE FIREMAN A REST!

BY J. H. TRIETT

Director, National Safety Council

The majority of fires which occur in the United States every year are in dwellings and a large proportion of these fires are from strictly preventable causes. Most of these are due to poor housekeeping and the careless handling of fire and inflammable materials.

Accumulation of rubbish in and around the house provides an ideal place for fires to start. Fires seldom start in clean places.

Never keep ashes in wooded receptacles nor pile them against wooden partitions, either outdoors or in the basement. Do not burn quantities of paper, excelsior, shavings and other rubbish in a fireplace or in the firebox
of a stove or furnace. The ashes clog
the flues and the long flames may start soot fires. Burn such materials in the ashbox beneath the firebox; it does no harm there.

Oily rags may ignite spontaneously,
if they are not burned after use, keep them in a metal container, preferably
out of doors.

Beware of any stove polish which contains benzine or other inflammable
liquid.

Never bring a kerosene can near a stove which has a fire in it and never pour kerosene into a stove, even if you think the fire is out. Many persons have been burned to death trying that experiment.

Do not fill kerosene lamps or stove tanks quite full. Leave a little space.
The same precaution applies also to gasoline stoves. Do not fill the tank while the stove is lighted. Where gasoline is used, always fill by daylight
and have the room well ventilated.

Do not go away and leave a fire in the stove or furnace with the drafts turned on. It may become overheated and start a fire.

The reason is a fine fellow personally, but no one wants him to call on business.

THE unexpected. The man who can cross up the opposition.

The Aggies had worked the ball
down to the Missouri 30-yard line.
They had worked a series of forward passes that were bewildering. It looked as though it was their one method of attack that would win, if any. Missouri secondary defense was back, working frantically to break up
that aerial attack.

Swartz did the passing with deadly accuracy. He dropped back to make another pass. The Missouri defense ran back to break it up. Swartz grabbed the ball ran twenty yards to one side, all the time making motions as though to pass the ball and then suddenly started out on a wide end run.
The Missouri team stood flat-footed
for an instant but just long enough to let the Aggie quarter get under way. He ran the distance and the Aggies won one of the most important battles in the conference championship race by 14 to 10.

RADIO PROTECTS PILOTS IN CROSS COUNTRY FLIGHTS

Lives of Airmen Will No Longer Be in So Much Peril.

Steps are under way, at the instigation of the postoffice department at Washington, to supply the government mail planes with voices and ears.

Removal of the element of air mail flying which has cost the lives of not a few of the men who have braved the air's whims over desolate places where a forced landing means isolation, is but one of the possibilities seen in the successful conclusion of broadcasting tests at Omaha, Neb., and Schenectady, N. Y.

When Jack Knight, veteran pilot, returned to earth at North Platte, Neb., recently, after an hour in the air during which he was in almost constant touch with the Omaha air mail hub, he said that the tests were so successful that it was proved that one-man transmitting stations for planes is a success.

Fields in Lee Co.

The advantages are obvious, when it is realized that in time of heavy fog or severe snow storms, especially at night, a pilot might stray out of his course and find difficulty in locating his next landing station even though aided by the powerful electric search lights which have been set up along the route. If the pilot can be accurately directed from the ground, and if the pilots and the landing stations can talk to each other, the pilot can be accurately directed from the ground and thus always find his bearings.

Landings of the transcontinental air mail have been established at Nelson and Franklin Grove and giant beacons which cast rays over a radius of thirty miles, are erected.

There are times, it is stated, when a plane has to make an unexpected landing, or when it is desirable to report to the landing field the presence of unusual atmospheric conditions. It has happened several times that an air pilot, being forced to land at remote and isolated places in the Rocky mountains. When this occurs, with a radio outfit installed the pilot can immediately call for assistance instead of waiting hours and perhaps days for a search party to find him. It is also an advantage to be able to transmit instructions to the pilot between stations, should occasion arise.

Tests Are Successful

The feasibility of using radio sets, both transmitting and receiving, on the type of plane employed in the air mail service has been fully established by preliminary tests recently completed at Schenectady, N. Y. These tests, with a De Havilland mail plane, took place under the direction of radio engineers.

Powerful and highly efficient, the equipment is at the same time so simple that anyone can operate it successfully after brief instruction. In the Schenectady test, the pilot was furnished with radio apparatus, yet on every trial flight the operation was entirely successful.

Mail airplanes carry only one man, the pilot, in order to save space for the mail. This means that the pilot must operate the radio equipment in addition to his duties in flying.

Sets Are Necessary

The pilot, in order to talk, merely throws the switch handle, conveniently mounted under his seat, to the transmit position and turns a large knob, the antenna variometer, until the ammeter mounted on the board in front of him shows a maximum reading. This is the whole process of tuning the transmitter. After he has done that once, he locks the knob in position, and it is only necessary to throw the handle from "transmit" to "receive" as desired.

The receiver is of the super-heterodyne type, so selected because of its sensitivity and high selectivity, the latter reducing engine noises and other interference to a minimum. While the seven-tube super-heterodyne receiver sounds complicated, in reality this one is very simple. Due to its special design, there are only two knobs necessary to adjust in tuning.

It is not possible to duplex on the plane, as with an ordinary wire telephone, although this may be done and in fact was done at the landing station. The pilot must throw his switch back and forth to talk or listen.

SAYS—NOW STIFF JOINTS MUST GO!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases.

Yes! It's true—the world progress

All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube. Then rub it on the offending part about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and appears on its errand of mercy. Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" if you are dreaming about the ah fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease. They call this wonder working substance, for the reason that ordinary remedies fail to limber the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint and reduce the swelling. Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name, for a good clean, simple prescription that in just a month has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks run out of them and work as nifty as ever.

Joint-Ease is for both knees and hips, whether in knee, ankle, hip, finger, spine or finger, and for that its sale is immense.

Joint Drug & Book Co. has a big supply of it and druggists everywhere. It's a big demand—Adv.

Seven Tubes in Receiver

The new thoriated tungsten filament tubes are used throughout, and contribute largely to the successful operation and efficiency of the apparatus.

watt tubes similar to the UV 203 A, and the receiver utilizes seven UV-123 tubes, which operate entirely on dry cells.

The high voltage necessary for the plates of the 50-watt transmitting tubes is supplied by a 52-pound, 700-watt dynamotor, operating from a 12-volt battery and delivering storage battery charges continually while the engine is running in exactly the same manner as the starting battery of an automobile.

The antenna for the mail plane radio equipment consists of a 200-foot trailing wire. This is carried on a special reel in the cockpit and let out when the plane takes to the air. A counterpoise, consisting of the engine, gas tank and all the struts and wires of the plane, connected together by bonding straps, is used for the ground connection.

W. W. S. Cooperates

The tests comprised a number of trial flights from Schenectady. The ground station was the special government station of WWS, assigned by the department of commerce. The longest flight made from Schenectady was when the pilot returned to Hazelhurst on Long Island, an airline distance of about 175 miles, during which continuous conversation with him was carried on.

The final message received was: "I am in sight of the landing field, and am going to reel in my antenna." This came in at Schenectady strong, indicating that the equipment could cover an even greater distance and that its normal rating of 100 watts output and 100 miles range, is undoubtedly conservative.

Battling Siki on Rampage with $1,000

By Associated Press Leased Wire

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Battling Siki is running wild in the featherland about Freddy Welsh's Summit, N. J., health farm, the elusive quarry of a searching party formed by his manager, Robert Levy.

The battler, who became noted by pranks in France, escaped Sunday night with money in his pockets.

"Sucker that I am," Levy explained, "I give him a whole thousand dollars when he asks for spending money and I tell him to be careful. But what do I find him doing in Harlem an hour later? He is giving away his money."

"I try make him quit, and I get chased, but I get away and later we capture the battler. In a tactical he goes and we drive to Fred Welsh's, out at Summit, a whole $27.80 worth, which I have to pay. Then the battler jumps out like a panther, swings off the limb of a tree, jumps a fence, whoops and is gone."

"Say if you see anybody what sees him, tell them to tell him to come home and everything is forgiven."

HIRAM ANNOUNCES PLATFORM WHICH HE STANDS UPON

Favors Bonus, Reduction of Taxes; Hits Foreign Policy.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Nov. 28.—After joining issue on national problems with the present federal administration in his address last night, Senator Hiram Johnson today had before the country the principles which he let it be known, are to form the background of his campaign for the republican presidential nomination. With his declarations as a basis the organization the senator already has announced plans to set under way its fight for delegates to the nominating convention.

Senator Johnson, in his first public utterance since announcing himself as a candidate, expressed opposition to the administration foreign policy, endorsed the soldiers' bonus and a plan for reduction of taxes on incomes, as well as suggesting remedies for the country's agricultural ills.

Opposition to any policy that would commit this country to "undiscovered European adventures" was declared by Senator Johnson.

Wants Fixed Policy

"I do not protest against an American policy toward Europe," he said, "I protest against an American policy which does not know what it is, and which seeks to discover itself, or to hide itself by first going into a conference with Europe."

"What I venture to denounce is the continuous effort to postpone having an American policy in favor of going into European international organizations, where the policy reached is bound to be not American but European."

The senator declared that "the responsible heads of the dominant political party have for some years pledged themselves and their party to the soldiers' adjusted compensation act. It constitutes a pledge now in reality a promise, a solemn pledge and we must keep faith."

Even with the bonus taxes could be reduced, according to the senator, who read figures computed by the Treasury department and American Legion to substantiate this statement.

Some Other Plans

Lower freight rates, extension of cooperative marketing and development of waterways were suggested as aids to agriculture that could be effected.

"The initial step in the relief of the farmer is lower freight rates. I would not be unjust to the transportation companies but that they could reduce the rates upon farm products I have little doubt, and if the Interstate Commerce Commission were to function with the celerity and certainty we desire, rates more in consonance with present conditions could be accorded. I would have the government educate and aid farmers in the forming of cooperative associations just as the government has aided other activities."

The senator criticized the proposal for a reparations conference and the League of Nations, asserting that "with exactly the same vagueness that we were asked to join the League of Nations, we were to join in conference or committee to determine reparations to be paid by Germany."

Reserve Bank that the October production of passenger cars numbered 334,244 compared with 298,000 in September, a gain of 11.9 per cent. The October output of trucks was shown to have increased 6.5 per cent from 27,841 to 29,638.

Wife Helps Elect Hubby

"After having been in bed half the time for a year with severe pains in my right side over the appendix stomach trouble and bloating, which the doctors seemed unable to reach with medicine and advised operation as the only remedy, my nurse advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and its results have truly been wonderful as I am now entirely well and strong, and at the last election worked hard to elect my husband." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and all causes the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all drug stores—Adv.

San Francisco—Prohibition honors for 1923 go to Dennis Dullea, resident in the extensive industrial section of San Francisco known as "south of the lot."

Recently federal prohibition agents raided his saloon. Accustomed to all modes for disposing of contraband liquor hurriedly, the agents moved rapidly to thwart such denouement.

But no hurry or flurry on the part of Dullea. He registered amazement only.

Then it developed, if Dullea may be believed, that he had never heard of Volstead or prohibition.

And why, he wonders, if it is against the law to sell liquor, why wasn't he raided at some previous time during his three years as bar-keep? Nor is he the only one who wonders that.

Among California products one noticeably lacking is modesty.

By billboard, advertising—matter, circulars and roadsigns, the various counties proclaim their glories to all. Thus one admits it is the county of "peace and prosperity," another "aims to be the 'sunniest vale,'" while others state they are the home of the "big" "biggest" whatever the prime agricultural product chances to be.

Tulare has been somewhat outclassed in the past. Her comparatively modest shibboleth was, "You'll like Tulare."

Too modest! Now she's to become "The Land of Milk and Money."

Comes also the city of Fresno seeking anew claim to fame. She is not content with being the center of one of the seven leading counties in the United States in the combined value of farm crops and livestock products, nor with her nation-wide "Raisin City" reputation, nor with having more than doubled her population within the last decade.

Now opens a campaign to make this the largest center between San Francisco and Los Angeles, also the best dressed, "the style center of the San Joaquin Valley."

The physician who healed himself has nothing on Prof. George Stratton of the University of California.

He is invoking psychology to cure his psychological ailment—tardiness.

When interruptions by late arrivals became intolerable, the professor suggested the class dismiss themselves.

Returns show marvelous results.

Co-eds at the University of California have undertaken to regulate themselves in manner deemed consistent with their position.

Here are the rules of their customs:

No slumping.

No going out alone after dark.

Must be at home not later than 2 a. m. on week-end nights.

Penalty: elimination of "dates" for two weeks. Infractions are scarce.

YOUR THANKSGIVING FEAST

Old-Fashioned, Novelty or Economical?

A THANKSGIVING dinner is in the nature of a traditional feast, and this is as it should be. It is well that we should have one purely American festival when we gather in family reunion and, eating the dishes beloved by our forebears, recall the memories of their sacrifices and efforts.

It is not an occasion, therefore, to try for novelty or elaboration in table decoration. Over the greater part of the country Thanksgiving day still finds the russet brown oak leaves clinging to the trees. These leaves, brightened by a few yellow chrysanthemums, make an effective and appropriate background for a dinner which should suggest the country, even if eaten in a city.

Thanksgiving a Yankee Holiday

As Thanksgiving originated in New England, it is to Yankee land that we must look for authoritative rulings on the occasion. The old mandate was two courses only, but that rule has relaxed, and as we are now allowed three, let us begin with oyster soup or more properly oyster bisque. Put two cups of oysters in a small enameled ware saucepan. Cook in their own liquor until the edges begin to curl.

Meantime mix together two tablespoonfuls of flour and two of butter until they are creamed. Put two cups of milk in an enameled ware double boiler. Take the oysters out of the liquor, chop fine and rub through a sieve. Add this purée of oysters and liquor to the milk. Stir in salt and pepper to taste. Let it all cook for five minutes. This bisque is very good as it is, but can be made richer by adding a cup of cream slightly beaten just before taking from the stove.

Next comes, of course, the dish of Thanksgiving, the turkey. A turkey is so large and so expensive that it is no wonder many a housewife dreads the responsibility of cooking it. If, however, she is the happy owner of an enameled ware roaster all the trouble and worry disappear, for this admirable contrivance is self-basting.

So, being assured of a perfectly cooked, beautifully browned turkey, we can proceed to its indispensable adjunct, cranberry sauce. Here we find two methods to choose from in serving the cranberry—as an old fashioned sauce with the whole berries, or as a jelly. In any case, use an enameled ware saucepan, which will not be affected by its sharp acid.

To make the jelly, take four cups of cranberries, wash them, put in the enameled ware saucepan and add one-half cup of water. Boil briskly for twenty minutes. Press through a sieve; add three cups of sugar, return to the fire and boil three minutes. This jelly may be served in a mold or put in very small glasses and served as individual portions.

Potato Balls Add Variety

For vegetable succotash seems very appropriate, as it is a distinctly American dish. In an enameled ware saucepan put a can of lima beans and add a can of sweet corn. When thoroughly heated add a tablespoon of butter, salt and pepper to taste. Potato balls make a little variety in the serving of that useful and universal vegetable. Boil and mash enough potatoes to make a pint. To this add a little celery salt, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste and enough hot milk to make it possible to form the potato mass into balls. Have ready an enameled ware kettle with hot fat, lard or, if preferred, olive oil. Drop in the balls and cook quickly until brown. An enameled ware skimmer will be found most useful in this kind of frying.

for boiling ham, is ideal for cooking the turkey. Stuff the turkey with oysters and bread crumbs and serve with an oyster sauce.

Put two cups of milk into an enameled ware double boiler; when hot stir in two tablespoonfuls of flour and two of butter rubbed together into a cream. When all is smooth add salt and pepper to taste, then the oysters and cook for about five minutes before serving. Pour over the turkey and around the platter.

For vegetables have boiled rice and escalloped onions. In an enameled ware bake dish put a layer of cold boiled potatoes, then a layer of sliced onions which have been par-boiled. When the dish is full of these alternate layers, sprinkle bread or cracker crumbs on the top. Pour over the whole a cup of warm milk in which a teaspoonful of salt has been dissolved. Bake in a moderate oven for an hour. Serve in the dish in which it is baked. Lima beans would make a good third vegetable.

For dessert, as the orthodox cranberry could not figure in the main course, try a cranberry pie. Line an enameled ware pie plate with pastry; put in two cups of uncooked cranberries, one and one-half cups of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter and pour over all a quarter of a cup of water. This pie can be served with a top crust like an apple pie, or without like a squash pie.

Why the Turkey Is "Inconvenient"

There is a very old story about a man with a large appetite who said, "The turkey is such an inconvenient bird. It is a little too large for one and not enough for two. Many a small or medium sized family feels itself in that position. The turkey looks very large in price as well as in fact. Here is a good and simple dinner which does not diverge too much from the traditions of the occasion.

Instead of soup serve that truly American delicacy, clams on the half shell. Then have a roast chicken. Here the enameled ware roaster will prove as invaluable as for the largest turkey. Cranberry sauce of course. Have sweet potatoes in southern style. Butter an enameled ware bake dish, place in it a layer of cold sweet potatoes cut in lengthwise slices. To each layer add brown sugar and about a teaspoonful of butter. When the dish is full add one cup of boiling water. Cook in a hot oven. Serve in the dish in which it is baked. Canned corn will go well with this dish.

For dessert try a Duchess pudding. This is very good hot or cold. Put a cup of milk in an enameled ware double boiler. When it is hot add three-quarters of a cup of bread crumbs. Let the bread soak until soft. Then stir in one-half cup grated cocoanut, one-half cup cocoa, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one-quarter teaspoonful salt and the yolks of two eggs, slightly beaten. Stir thoroughly. When well mixed, add the whites of two eggs, beaten very stiff. Have ready a well buttered enameled ware bake dish and cook in a moderate oven for half an hour. Serve in the dish in which it is baked.

PATRIOTIC APPEAL OF "GENERAL" LEE OIL FAKERS' GAME

"General," Titular Head of Company, Was Dupe
Himself.

BY ROY J. GIBBONS
NEA Service Writer

St. Worth, Tex.—The crooked oil
stock promoter went to any extreme to bait his "suckers."

As an outstanding example of just how these methods grow bolder from imagined long immunity, take the case of the so-called "General" Robert
A. Lee.

Primarily, Lee, although titular
head of the company bearing his name,
was a dupe himself, taken in by a few naive promoters, who paid him $50 a month for use of his pretended relationship to the famous Confederate leader.

With dress and appearance similar to what one might expect in a Confederate veteran, Lee forgot that the highest plane to which he had risen in life was a janitor in Boise, Idaho,
and plunged willingly into the frenzied financial whirlpool.

Made "Geologist"
An avalanche of high-pressure,
faked advertising brought him before
the public as an "eminent geologist"
who had been keeping secret a great
find in oil, and now wanted to let the
"dear public" in on it.

Calling himself a nephew of the real General Robert E. Lee, this counterfeit relation, in a pamphlet captioned
"The Honor of the Lee's," said in substance that his promotional idea "was the supreme achievement of a lifetime."

From janitor to geologist, and then to kinship with a figure in history was a mere trifle for this character, whom we find later on as saying in his bait
to trusting and patriotic southerners
as well as folks everywhere in the country:

"General Robert A. Lee, the miracle man of geology, makes the outstanding announcement of his long and successful career."

"Always a Success"
"General Robert A. Lee has been a success all his life. In his sphere as those of his illustrious ancestry—in other lines of human endeavor—politics, statesmanship, warfare, education and religion, General Robert A. Lee's life is an inspiring series of events."

An organization, erected on the solid foundation that a lifetime's reputation has built up."

For perpetuation of this fraud,
which drew $200,000 and wrecked many homes and hearts, Lee was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years.

In most instances the lurid presentation of golden opportunity which deceived the country from oil promotional offices was of such high explosive character that it seemingly paralyzed the better judgment of even skeptical prospects.

One promoter, now under arrest,
unfounded his particular advertising
with a picture of a Leavenworth penitentiary showing the prison with the gates ajar.

Government Aroused
Over the whole thing he printed this
in large type:

"If I'm a fraud, the gates of the penitentiary will open to receive me."

Now that the investigation is under way here on a wholesale scale, indictments are being returned and will be asked for, not only against oil fakers who made misstatements of fact in their literature, but also against promoters who converted unsent total stock sale receipts to their own purposes.

Guilt in such instances, so high government officials declare, will rest
with the jury on circumstantial evidence.

In other words, intent to defraud in the multitudinous oil promotional enterprises will be measured in great part by the jury-tested honesty of the promoter in his efforts to settle equitably with investors, from funds still in his possession when he declared his company defunct.

Hence the nervousness in promoter circles in St. Worth, from which went the promises of rivers of oil that were turned into rivers of tears and tenements of oil.

(Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

How the fake oil stock promoters were trapped through vigilance of a newspaperman and federal officials is told in Gibbons' concluding article.

FOOTBALL NEWS

THERE WILL BE NO BREAK
BETWEEN MICH. AND WIS.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—By the Associated Press.—There is to be no break in the friendly relations of 30 years between Michigan and Wisconsin when Western Conference athletic directors and coaches meet here Friday and Saturday to arrange 1924 football schedules. This is assured by statements from officials that a game has already been agreed on.

Coach Yost is said to be agreeable to the addition of a fifth conference
game so that Illinois may be included.
Otherwise, Michigan will probably play Ohio State, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin. Chicago also is angling for a date with the Wolverines.

The Badgers are considering resumption of football relations with Northwestern, dropping Indiana, and are also negotiating for a game with Notre Dame. It has been announced that the Wisconsin schedule is likely to contain games with Coe, Michigan Aggies, Chicago, Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota.

Chicago is reported to be dickering
for preliminary games with Brown
and the University of Southern California. Illinois, Wisconsin, Purdue, Northwestern and Indiana may be in the Maroon lineup.

The hard schedules arranged by Illinois and Iowa are expected to be repeated.

athletic directors and faculty representatives are to have proposed changes in rules under consideration on Friday. A vote is expected to be taken on the suggested "migrant rule" the adoption of which would prohibit use of players by Big Ten teams who had entered the conference institutions after competing in other schools.

Some Wisconsin followers have requested that consideration be given a rule that would prohibit disqualification of a football player after the season starts. The action against E. C.
Gerber, Badger tackle, disqualified before the Illinois game on a charge of professionalism prompted the move.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS NEW
4½ PER CENT BABY BOND

Postmaster John E. Moyer received from Washington today his first consignment of new Treasury Savings Certificates which he will place on sale Saturday morning at the post office. The $25 Certificate will sell for $20, the $100 Certificate for $80, and the $1,000 Certificate will cost $800.

Each Certificate matures in five years,
bearing 4½ per cent per annum, compounded semi-annually. Each Certificate has a redemption value which increases every month so that an owner
who holds his Certificate only one month will get back more than his original investment. Each Certificate is registered against all forms of loss
and carries valuable tax exemption features. Postmaster Moyer expects the demand for these new securities
on Saturday will far exceed his supply. Orders will be received up to 6 p. m.

No. 7—New American Tango

BY ARTHUR MURRAY

Director, National Institute of Social Dancing

The New Tango is often referred to as "The Wallis Tango" because of the predominance of old-fashioned waltz steps. Every one who wants to become a really good dancer should know the actual steps in the old-fashioned "round waltz."

The tango tempo is the same as in the fox trot. It is danced to "four-four" time. However, we will not be concerned with technical terms. We will use the simplest method of counting, that of counting the actual steps taken.

Steps Divided

In the tango and fox trot, the steps are divided into a slow and quick movements. The slow step takes about a second and gets two beats of the music. The quick step is twice as fast as a slow step and is given only a half second.

To be sure that you know just how fast to walk, take out your watch and hold it in your hand while walking. Give one second to each slow walking step. Walk around the room for about ten minutes doing the slow steps.

After that, walk around the room, with watch in hand, and do the quick steps, giving a half a second to each step.

Be sure and learn to walk correctly to tango or slow fox trot music before going further.

The Tango Promenade

Begin with the left foot and take four long, slow walking steps forward, 1, 2, 3, 4; these four walking steps are not a part of the promenade, but it is advisable to do them before actually beginning the promenade. They are necessary in order to make the steps fit the music. Then:

1. Take one SLOW walking step forward with the left foot.
2. Step forward quickly with the right foot, moving it diagonally to the right, about 14 inches to right of the left foot.
3. Quickly draw left foot up to right, weight on left.

4. Take one slow step straight forward with right foot, weight on right. Study the diagram and read these descriptions over again.

No. 8—The Ambassador Fox Trot

THE FOURTH STEP IN THE AMBASSADOR FOX TROT BEING DEMONSTRATED BY ARTHUR MURRAY, ITS ORIGINATOR, AND AILEEN MEEHAN.

BY ARTHUR MURRAY

Director, National Institute of Social Dancing

The Ambassador fox trot was so named because it is the dance most popular at this fashionable hotel where New York's best dancers gather at tea time to introduce the latest steps.

See how easily you can learn it.

This movement contains a syncopated waltz step done to fox trot music. It is extremely popular with good dancers who appreciate the beauty of doing waltz steps to fox trot music.

1. Begin with left foot and take a long slow step straight forward.
2. Step on right foot forward, diagonally to right, as in illustration.
3. Draw left foot up to right, weight on left. These three steps complete one forward waltz movement.
4. Step directly backward on the right foot. Repeat the entire step of four counts.

Note that in the illustration the numbers 1 and 4 are dark. This is to indicate that they are slow steps; each step is given a full count. Numbers 2 and 3 are given quick steps.

Lady's Part

Learn the man's part before studying your own.

1. Begin with the right foot and take a long slow step backward.
2. Place the left foot backward, diagonally to your left, about 14 inches to the left of your right foot.
3. Draw the right foot up to the left, weight on right.
4. Step straight forward with your left foot, weight on left.

Repeat the entire step of four counts. Note that the first and four steps

Remember that each time you take a step, place the weight down ON that foot. For instance, if you step forward or sideways with the left foot, the weight must be placed ON the left foot.

Begin at the first of the instructions and read them very carefully. Practice this step for about an hour.

The Chasse

The chasse is perhaps the most difficult of all tango steps. It is one of the open position steps in which the dancers stand about six inches apart and both dancers look in the same direction.

The steps are taken sideways. The man has his back to the center of the room as he progresses to his left. The lady faces the center of the room and her steps are taken sideways to her right.

If you know the two-step you will find that learning the chasse is very simple. The movement consists of a two-step to the left and one slow walking step.

First read the description, and then study the diagram. Study the steps carefully before attempting to do them. The chasse is perhaps the most difficult step and if you can learn it, you will be able to dance any ballroom dance.

TWO—Draw right foot up to left.
THREE—Slide left foot to left side.
FOUR—This is a slow step. Cross right foot in front of left. See illustration, which shows the position of the feet on the fourth step. Study the diagram.

Lady's Part Given

Repeat the entire step three more times. Note that all of the steps are taken sideways, to the man's left.

Lady's part: Read the man's part. Note that the man has his back to the center of the room. The lady faces the center and takes her steps to the right.

TWO—Draw left up to right.
THREE—Slide right foot to right.
FOUR—Cross left foot in front of right. (See illustration).
Repeat entire step three more times.

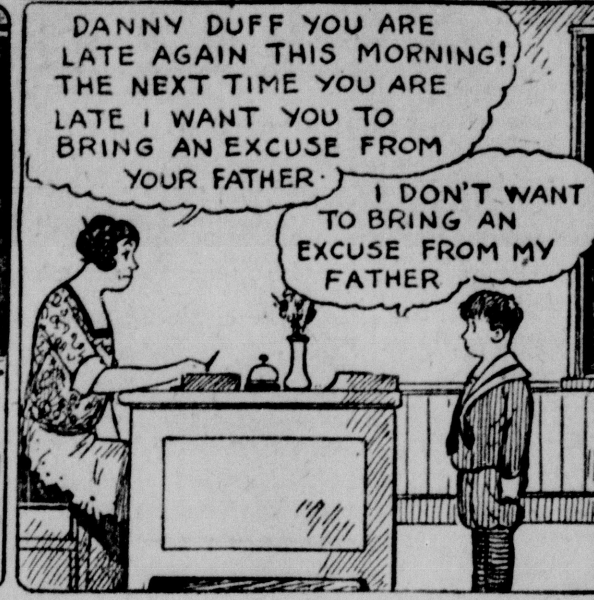

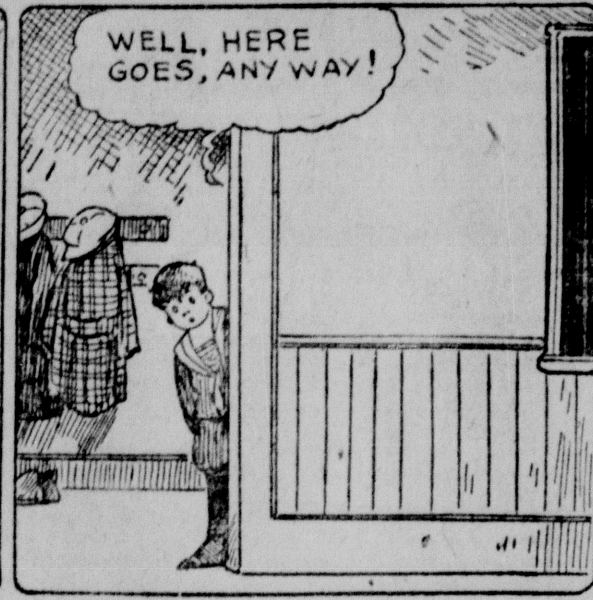

Mr. Murray explains how to dance the Ambassador Fox Trot in his next article.

HAS YOUR HOME A SAFETY MANAGER?

BY JAY E. THOMPSON

Assistant Manager Cleveland Safety Council

Each home should have a safety manager. Whether it be Little Johnny or Grandpa, someone in the family should be named to safeguard it from the little accidents that in 1922 killed more than 40,000 in American homes. Cities and factories have safety managers, and thousands of lives are saved. It is equally as important that each home should have a safety manager, to make accident prevention his or her job.

Now is the time to select your new family safety manager, for during this month, the Telegraph is publishing valuable information on home accident limitation, prepared by experts for the National Safety Council.

Keep your home clean.

If you're clean, you're careful; if you're careful, you're clean.

Fires are accidents of the worst kind. Offer them start from piles of rubbish in corners or under stairways.

When a fire occurs, use your head.

Getting excited neither puts out the fire nor helps you get away. Keeping fires from starting is the best way to use your head.

Clean furnaces, clean stoves, clean chimneys, clean stairways, and clean habits will protect your home from fire and many other dangers.

CHICAGO DIVINE ADDRESSES LARGE ROCHELLE THRONG

Dr. Frederick Shannon of Central Church Spoke
Sunday.

Rochelle, Nov. 28.—"God enables a man to look in; to look back; to look around; to look forward; and to look upward," declared Dr. Frederick P. Shannon of Central church, Chicago, Sunday evening, in his sermon to an audience of 610 people, who packed the church. Dr. Shannon took as his subject, "What Christ Does for Man."

"It is not something that is strange or is far off. It is the conduit through which waters flow to the soul. If we had half as much faith in God as we do in each other, we could shake this old world of ours before tomorrow's sunrise," continued the speaker.

"Is it possible that on the human sphere, we are manifesting the spirit of Christ and yet shutting out God? The spirit of God enables a human being to stand on his own feet. For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have eternal life."

"Our temptation is just to rest on our oars today, because we accomplished something yesterday. If so we have cheated the undertaker out of a job—we are spiritually dead. How are we in the realm of idealism? Are you determined to be better tomorrow than you are today? If so you are the only person who has a right to be happy. The only way to do this is to keep your soul in good condition. What profiteth a man if he gains the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

"Men and women, we are hurrying through the years. Where are we going to? In my study of humanity I have found those endowed with the spirit of God believe we are going to a place infinitely better than this world. Let us then lay up a crown of righteousness, a crown of right doing. 'He's your God, the God of your exiled fathers. He's the same God that has cared for these Americans for three centuries. Let us accept Him and in so doing lay up for ourselves a crown of righteousness.'"

A strong musical program by the chorus choir of thirty voices directed by Mrs. Kathryn Diehl with Mrs. S. W. Hoon at the organ, was another helpful feature of this splendid service.

A crowd that completely filled the church at 10:30 a. m. attended the sixtieth anniversary of the First Presbyterian church, Sunday, Nov. 25. The Jefferson Grove church, organized in 1847, was the first Presbyterian church of Ogle county. The present church of Kings, now thirty-six years old, has descended from these earlier organizations through the Presbyterian churches of White Rock and White Rock Center. Dinner was served in the church dining room at 12:30.

The program:

Oregon, Ill.—Outstanding country squire among American presidential candidates, farm management his occupation, cattle breeding his hobby and horseback riding over his own 5000 acres his favorite exercise.

Such is Frank O. Lowden, former Illinois governor, who is hailed as a real farmer even by his neighbors. His has been the real "back to the soil" movement, for he has returned in both residence and interest to the rustic atmosphere from which he started.

When Lowden bought the first tract of Sinsissippi Farm, 25 years ago, he joined the community under the handicap of being a stranger, known as the son-in-law of the Pullman Company magnate and weaned from the soil by years of city law practice. It required time for him to merge with the landscape and to be accepted.

In Oregon they like to recall his starting to tour the district in his first Congressional campaign in 1906, driven by a coachman behind a pair of stepping bang-tailed horses.

"For heaven's sake, colonel, get down to earth or you'll be snowed under," advised a courthouse sage. "Hire a buggy from the livery stable when you go out after votes."

Practical Farmer
Lowden recognized good advice, and a never-outgrown interest in farming coupled with keen political sense have made him, to the core, a farmer.

"The Lowden farm goes better when the colonel is at home," says an observing neighbor.
"The colonel knows as well as any man in the country whether a field should be put in oats or corn. He used to raise Shorthorn cattle and was an expert at judging them. He's good at Holsteins now. The farm is on a business basis and has to earn its keep."

Around the courthouse the loungers give ready appraisals of the community's first citizen. To them all he is "Colonel"; not "Governor" and not "Frank."

"Not a Good Politician"
"He isn't a good politician," says one.
"He's too conscientious. Take when he was governor, his county didn't get any roads or big favors. He didn't want it thought he was spending the state's money on his home folks."

"Colonel Lowden just won't let anybody dictate to him," says another admirer. "He could have been governor when Deneen was nominated if he had compromised. I heard him say in a campaign speech once, 'I want to be in good company when I'm by myself, and that is the way he works.'"

"Well, the colonel is democratic all right," testifies a third. "He doesn't walk around slapping folks on the shoulder, but he knows your name whenever you meet him, is glad to see you and ready to listen to you. The Lowden kids are all right, too, not a bit snipish."

Those who have watched Lowden's campaigning are ready to dispute his fellow townsman who says he isn't a good politician. Comes the memory of a crowded convention hall. The chairman introduces Lowden, a stocky, vigorous, clean-cut man who talks clearly, ingratiatingly, with a world of punch.

His tanned face reddens and he perspires. Off comes his coat. One notes the suspenders. He loosens his collar. On he talks and his hearers clamor for more.

Ogle county is for "Colonel Lowden." As a neighbor for 25 years he has impressed the people here with his sincerity, fairness, generosity and exceptional ability.

The beautiful homestead overlooking the Rock River is his "home," and he is one of the community.

Lowden first demonstrated practically the advantage of dairy farming on the river ravines, and led to the establishing of a large milk condensery here. In local charities and civic enterprises he took a large share. In county politics he attempted no dictatorship.

That is the home town slant on the man who narrowly missed the presidential nomination in 1920, refused the ambassadorship to England this fall and may yet reach the White House.

Lowden was born in 1861 at Sunrise City, Minn., son of the town blacksmith. It was pioneer country then, and his mother used to take him as a baby with her to get the cows for fear Indians might steal him. The family moved to Hardin county, Ill., when the boy was 7. There he grew up, teaching school to pay his way through the University of Iowa.

In 1886 he moved to Chicago, worked in a law office while going to law school and finished the course in a single year at the head of his class. Ten years later he was a leader at the bar and married to Florence Pullman. He quit practicing law in 1906. When not in public office, most of his time since then has been spent on the farm.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT CONTINUED

They say that speaking of angels you hear the rustle of their wings. I wonder if that holds good when you put down your thought about them on paper.

Just as I had decided in my own mind to tell Ruth all about the pearl beads, she called me up and said she was coming over to luncheon. "Be sure and put on your pretty negligee," were her parting words.

I hastened to do it and, little Marquise, I don't believe that even in your bouffant silks with their garlands of roses and delicate laces you had anything more becoming than that modern gown. It is queer old blue Chinese brocade, as soft as a rose leaf and lined with orchid chiffon. I presume you would think, little Marquise, that the tight narrow slip looks very queer, but to my modern eyes it is very beautiful, held on by the narrow straps over the shoulders. Then over this undergarment is hung a long loose garment of two straight pieces sewed together up the back and hanging in two panels down the front. This is of the same blue brocade and lined throughout with the pinkish lavender of the orchid chade. Then comes what makes the real style and beauty of this negligee. The very bottom of the back panel is caught around under your knees over the two front panels with a gorgeous beaded ornament in blue and orchid from lightest to darkest shades.

Of course you can hardly walk in it, as that back panel brought around in front binds you just at the knees; but oh, how well it looks, and I'm not ashamed to say that after I had put it on and undressed my hair I felt much better. The girl who said there is a satisfaction in being well dressed that religion cannot give, said something. Probably you won't understand that at all, little Marquise, but I do, and since these letters are written more to get my thoughts, my troubles, my griefs—and yes, my pet jealousies—out of my system, I think it does not matter whether you understand everything I say or not. When I'm alone I know that I was looking my very best. She exclaimed the moment she looked at me, "I knew that was your negligee, Leslie, the moment I saw it."

"It is very beautiful, Ruth, but it must have been frightfully expensive."

"You are not to worry over that. I am giving it to you." She hesitated a moment and then went on, "That may sound funny to you, dear, because you know I haven't any money but I am going to have some and this negligee comes out of my first profits. Is Jack coming home to luncheon?"

"I hope not."

"Is it as serious as that, Leslie?" smiled Ruth.

"Quite." I answered soberly. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

TOMORROW—Leslie continues her letter—A confession of trouble.

THE NUT CRACKER

Mr. Rickard's customers paid $59.000 to see Battling Siki, despite the fact that it costs nothing to visit the zoo.

Do you know that during the first eight months of this year 181 manufacturers report they have built 2,689,837 automobiles and trucks.

With the 14,000,000 cars licensed in the United States and over 3,000,000 million cars and trucks being manufactured each year, do you realize what it means to the CITY where the BEMENT POSITIVE DRIVE DIFFERENTIAL IS MADE? Even if only FIVE per-cent of the cars are equipped with it.

Men prominent in the automotive industry, say that in three years EIGHTY per-cent of the cars driven will be equipped with THIS DEVICE. Figure it out how many MEN will be needed to manufacture the DIFFERENTIAL to supply the demand.
